INTERIM FINANCIALS STATEMENT REVIEW REPORT

Dear to: Shareholders, Board of Director and Board of Management of Sai Gon Traffic Construction Joint Stock Company

We have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of the Office of Sai Gon Traffic Construction Joint Stock Company, prepared on 18 August 2026 and set out on pages 09 to 41. These financial statements comprise the Interim Statement of Financial statement as at 30 June 2026, the Interim Income Statement, the Interim Cash Flows Statement for the accounting period then ended, and the Notes to the Interim Financial Statement.

Responsibilities of the Board of Management

The Board of Managements of the Company is responsible for preparing and presenting honestly and reasonably interim financial statements in accordance with the Vietnamese accounting standards, the Vietnamese accounting systems for enterprise and legal regulations related to the preparation and presentation of sinterim financial statements and is responsible for the internal control that the Board of Management determines it is necessary to ensure that the preparation and presentation of interim financials statement is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Responsibilities of the Auditor

It is our responsibility to draw conclusions about our Interim financial statements based on the results of our review. We have carried out the review work in accordance with The Vietnamese Standard on the review service contract No.2410 - Interim Financial Statement review conducted by the independent auditor.

Interim financial information review work includes conducting interviews, primarily interviewing people responsible for financial and accounting matters, and carrying out analysis procedures and other review procedures. A review is substantially narrower than an audit conducted in accordance with Vietnamese auditing standards and therefore does not allow us to achieve the assurance that we will be aware of all material issues that may be discovered in an audit. Accordingly, we do not give an audit opinion.

Conclusion of the Auditor

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying Interim financial statement of the Office have not been prepared, in all material respects, to present fairly the financial position as at 30 June 2026, the Interim Income Statement and the Interim Cash Flows Statement for the accounting period ended as same day, in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System, and the relevant legal requirements applicable to the preparation and presentation of Interim financial statements.

4 Ordinary course of business : 12 months5 Characteristics of the Company's activities in the period affecting financial statements

The Company primarily performs contracts for the provision of public utility products and services and the construction of projects funded by the State budget. As a result, the settlement and finalisation process may take an extended period of time. The settlement value may be affected by changes in the State's management policies, which may consequently affect the Company's operating results.

During the reporting period, as a result of the administrative reorganization under which Ba Ria-Vung Tau Province and Binh Duong Province were merged into Ho Chi Minh City, the Company's market for the maintenance and repair of transportation infrastructure was correspondingly expanded. This was the primary factor contributing to the increase in the Company's revenue during the reporting period. At the same time, the expansion has posed significant challenges to the Company's Board of Management in terms of management and operational oversight for the 2026–2031 term of office.

IV ACCOUNTING POLICIES, ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND APPLICABLE RELEVANT LEGAL REGULATIONS

1 Cash and cash equivalents

a. Principles for recognition of funds

The funds are the full amount available to the Company at the time of reporting, including: cash at the fund, demand bank deposits and funds in transit.

b. Principle of recognition of cash equivalents

Cash equivalents are investments whose remaining recovery period is not more than 3 months from the date of investment that are readily convertible into a specified amount of money and there is no risk of conversion into money from the date of purchase of such investment at the time of preparation of the Interim Financial Statement.

2 Accounting rules for financial investments

Are investments outside the enterprise for the purpose of rational use of capital to improve the operational efficiency of the enterprise such as: investment in capital contribution to subsidiaries, joint ventures, associates, securities investments and other financial investments ...

Classification of investments when preparing financial statements according to the following principles:

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for the accounting period ended as at 30 June 2026

(Issued in accordance with Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC
dated 27 October 2025 of the Minister of Finance)

- Investments with a residual recovery term of not more than 12 months or in 1 production and business cycle are classified as short-term.

- Investments with a residual recovery term of 12 months or more or more than 1 production and business cycle are classified as long-term.

a. Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments do not include bonds and debt instruments held for trading purposes. Held-to-maturity investments comprise term deposits with banks (with a remaining maturity of more than three months), Treasury bills, promissory notes, bonds, redeemable preference shares for which the issuer is obliged to repurchase the shares at a specified future date, loans held to maturity for the purpose of earning periodic interest income, and other held-to-maturity investments.

Allowance for impairment of held-to-maturity investments

For held-to-maturity investments for which no allowance has been made in accordance with applicable regulations, the Company assesses their recoverability. Where there is objective evidence that part or all of an investment may not be recoverable, the estimated loss is recognised in finance expenses for the period. The allowance is recognised or reversed at the reporting date. Where the amount of the loss cannot be measured reliably, the carrying amount of the investment is not reduced. Instead, appropriate disclosure is made in the Notes to the Financial Statements regarding the recoverability of the investment.

b. Investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures, affiliations, and co-controlled businesses

The investment in subsidiaries, affiliates is accounted for according to the original price method. Net profit divided from subsidiaries, affiliates arising after the date of investment is recognized in financial revenues for the period. Other divided amounts (in addition to net profit) are considered the share of recovery of investments and are recognized as deductions from the principal price of investments.

Provision for loss of investment in another entity:

Losses incurred by subsidiaries, joint ventures, associates resulting in the investor potentially losing capital or provisions due to impairment of the value of these investments. The appropriation or refund of this provision is made at the time of drawing up the Financial Statements for each investment and is recognized in the financial expenses for the period.

3 Accounting rules for receivables

Receivables must be recorded detail by aging, by each client and in original currency if any and others details depending on the management request of the company.

The classification of receivables must be managed as bellows:

- Trade receivables: any receivable having from trading activities between the company and its clients: selling goods, providing service, disposal of assets, exported receivable of consigner through the consignee;

- Intra-company receivables: receivables between the company with its dependent branches;

- Other receivables: are non trade receivables and do not related to trading activities.

For the preparation of financial statements, the receivables must be classified as bellows:

- Having maturity less than 12 months or 01 normal production period are recorded as short - term.

- Having maturity over than 12 months or 01 normal production period are recorded as long - term.

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for the accounting period ended as at 30 June 2026

(Issued in accordance with Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC
dated 27 October 2025 of the Minister of Finance)

Allowance for doubtful receivables

Allowance for doubtful receivables is recognised for receivables considered doubtful at the time the financial statements are prepared. The allowance is established or reversed at the reporting date and recognised in administrative expenses for the reporting period. For long-outstanding doubtful receivables where the Company has exhausted all reasonable collection measures but remains unable to recover the debts, and the debtors are determined to have no ability to settle their obligations, the Company may dispose of such receivables through the sale of debts to a debt trading company or write off the doubtful receivables from its accounting records, in accordance with applicable laws and the Company's Charter.

In addition, the Company has certain doubtful receivables arising from the approval of the final settlement of public utility service and product projects completed before the Company was officially converted into a joint stock company, which are pending guidance from the competent authorities on their resolution.

4 Rules for recording inventories

a. Principles for the recognition of inventories;

Inventories are stated at original cost. Where the net realizable value is lower than cost, inventories should be measured at the net realizable value. The cost of inventories should comprise all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price minus the estimated selling expenses.

b. Method for determining the cost of inventories;

The cost of ending inventories is determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method.

c. Inventory accounting method;

Inventories are accounted for using the perpetual inventory method.

5 Accounting principles and depreciation of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, finance lease assets and investment property

Fixed assets are stated at the historical cost. During the using time, fixed assets are recorded at cost, accumulated depreciation and net book value.

During the course of use, the Company charges depreciation of property, plant and equipment to operating expenses for assets used in production and business activities. In respect of intangible assets, amortisation is recognised only for land use rights with a definite term.

Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis. Depreciation period is estimated as follow:

- Buildings and structures	05 - 50	years
- Machinery, equipment	08 - 15	years
- Transportation equipment	06 - 10	years
- Management equipment	03 - 06	years
- Other assests	04	years
- Intangible assets and other assets	03 - 06	years

6 Prepaid expenses

The calculation and allocation to expense to each accounting period based on the nature, level of each prepaid expense to determine the allocation method properly and consistently.

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for the accounting period ended as at 30 June 2026

(Issued in accordance with Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC
dated 27 October 2025 of the Minister of Finance)

Prepaid expenses are monitored according to each term of expenses which incurred and distributed into objects bear the cost of each accounting period and the remain is not amortized to expense.

Prepaid expenses are classified as follows:

- Prepaid expense related to purchase or service less than 12 months or 01 normal production period, from incurred date, are recorded as short - term.
- Prepaid expense related to purchase or service over than 12 months or 01 normal production period, from incurred date, are recorded as long - term

7 Payables

Payables are tracked in detail for the remaining payment period of the payables, payables, type of currency payable and other factors required by the Company.

The classification of payables is based on the following principles:

- Payables to suppliers: Trade payables arising from purchases of goods, services, assets and liabilities when imported through a trustee;
- Intercompany payables: Payables between subordinate units and dependent subordinate units not having dependent legal entity status;
- Other payables: Non-commercial payables, not related to purchase, sale or supply of goods or services.

Payables are classified as follows:

- Payables related to purchase or service less than 12 months or 01 normal production period, from incurred date, are recorded as short - term.
- Payables related to purchase or service over than 12 months or 01 normal production period, from incurred date, are recorded as long - term

8 Accounting principles for dividends and profit distribution payable

The Company recognises dividends and profit distribution payable at the date on which it no longer has the discretion to avoid the obligation to pay dividends or distribute profits to its shareholders or capital contributors in accordance with the applicable laws. Depending on the type of enterprise, the timing for recognising and paying dividends or profit distributions is determined as follows:

- For enterprises subject to the laws and regulations on securities, the date on which the investee no longer has the discretion to avoid the payment of dividends shall be determined in accordance with the applicable securities regulations.
- For all other enterprises, the date on which the investee no longer has the discretion to avoid the payment of dividends shall be determined in accordance with the Law on Enterprises and the Company's Charter.

9 Accrued expenses

Liabilities for goods and services received from suppliers, or goods and services provided to customers during the reporting period but not yet settled due to the absence of invoices or incomplete supporting accounting documentation, as well as amounts payable to employees, are accrued and recognised as operating expenses in the reporting period. This accounting treatment ensures that the actual settlement of such obligations in subsequent periods does not result in significant fluctuations in operating expenses and complies with the matching principle between revenues and expenses. Accrued expenses are measured based on careful estimates supported by reasonable and reliable evidence. When the actual expenses are subsequently incurred, any difference between the accrued amount and the actual amount is recognised through an adjustment to the corresponding expense.

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for the accounting period ended as at 30 June 2026

(Issued in accordance with Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC
dated 27 October 2025 of the Minister of Finance)

10 Accounting principles for deferred revenue

Deferred revenue comprises unearned revenue, including amounts received in advance from customers for one or more accounting periods in respect of the lease of assets; interest received in advance on loans granted or debt instruments acquired; the difference between the selling price under deferred or instalment payment terms and the cash selling price; and revenue relating to goods or services to be provided, or discounts and rebates to be granted to customers under customer loyalty programmes.

11 Accounting principles for provisions

Provisions are recognised when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- The Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event;
- It is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; and
- A reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the accounting period.

A provision for restructuring costs is recognised only when the recognition criteria for provisions prescribed by the Accounting Standard "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets" are satisfied.

Provisions are recognised or reversed at the reporting date in accordance with applicable regulations. Upon initial recognition, provisions are recorded as administrative expenses. However, provisions for product and goods warranties are recognised as selling expenses, while provisions for construction warranty costs are recognised as manufacturing overhead costs. Any reversal of such provisions is recognised as other income.

Only expenditures directly related to the original provision are charged against that provision.

12 Borrowings and capitalizing borrowings

Borrowings in the form of bonds issued or preference shares issued that contain mandatory redemption provisions requiring the issuer to redeem the instruments at a specified future date are not presented under this line item.

Classification of loans and liabilities for financial lease when preparing financial statements according to the following principles:

- Loans, financial lease liabilities with a remaining repayment term of not more than 12 months are classified as short-term.
- Loans, financial lease liabilities with a remaining repayment term of more than 12 months are classified as long-term.

13 Accounting principles for the recognition and capitalisation of borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to borrowings are recognised as finance expenses in the period in which they are incurred, except for borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of assets under construction, which are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets when the recognition criteria prescribed in the Accounting Standard "Borrowing Costs" are satisfied.

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for the accounting period ended as at 30 June 2026

(Issued in accordance with Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC
dated 27 October 2025 of the Minister of Finance)

14 Owner's equity

a. Contributed capital, capital surplus, conversion options on convertible bonds, other capital

The owner's investment capital is recorded according to the actual capital contributed by the owner and is monitored in detail for each organization and individual participating in capital contribution.

The share capital contribution of shareholders is recorded at the actual price of issuing shares, but is reflected in two separate indicators:

- The owner's contributed capital is recognized at par value of the shares;
- The share capital surplus is recognized according to the larger or lesser difference between the actual price of the share issuance and the par value.

In addition, share premium is recognised as the difference between the actual reissuance price and the par value of treasury shares upon their reissuance, whether such difference is positive or negative.

b. Undistributed earnings

Undistributed profit after tax represents the profit generated from the Company's activities after adding (+) deducting (-) adjustments arising from the retrospective application of changes in accounting policies and retrospective restatement of material errors relating to prior years.

The distribution of the Company's operating profit shall be carried out in accordance with the prevailing financial regulations and policies.

The Parent Company shall distribute profits to its shareholders only to the extent that such distribution does not exceed the retained earnings presented in the consolidated financial statements after eliminating the effects of gains arising from bargain purchases. Where the retained earnings presented in the consolidated financial statements exceed those presented in the Parent Company's separate financial statements, and the amount of profits approved for distribution exceeds the retained earnings available in the Parent Company's separate financial statements, the Parent Company shall make such distribution only after the relevant profits have been remitted by its subsidiaries to the Parent Company.

When distributing profits, it is necessary to consider non-monetary items located in undistributed after-tax profits that may affect cash flow and the ability to pay dividends and profits of the company.

15 Principles and methods for revenue and other income recognition

a. Revenue from the Sale of Goods and the Rendering of Services

Revenue from the Sale of Goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- . The significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been transferred to the buyer;
- . The Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- . The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- . It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company;
- . The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

Revenue from The Rendering of Services

Revenue from the rendering of services is recognised when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- . The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- . It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company;
- . The stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date can be measured reliably;
- . The costs incurred for the transaction and the costs to complete the transaction can be measured reliably.

INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

for the accounting period ended as at 30 June 2026

(Issued in accordance with Circular No. 99/2025/TT-BTC
dated 27 October 2025 of the Minister of Finance)

Construction Contract Revenue

Revenue from construction contracts is recognised under either of the following circumstances:

- Where a construction contract provides for payments based on the planned progress schedule, revenue is recognised by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity at the reporting date, provided that the outcome of the contract can be estimated reliably. The stage of completion is determined by the contractor.

- Where a construction contract provides for payments based on the value of work performed, revenue is recognised by reference to the stage of completion certified by the customer, provided that the outcome of the contract can be estimated reliably and the completed work has been confirmed by the customer.

Where the outcome of a construction contract cannot be estimated reliably, revenue is recognised only to the extent of contract costs incurred that are probable of recovery.

b. Financial income

Finance income comprises interest income, royalty income, dividends, profit distributions, and other finance income. Interest income arising from loans, deferred payment sales, and instalment sales is recognised when its collection is probable and the related loan principal or outstanding receivable is not classified as overdue and requiring an allowance for doubtful debts. Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive the dividend has been established.

c. Other incomes

Other incomes includes income other than the company's production and business activities: sale, liquidation of Fixed assets; fines imposed by the client for breach of contract; third-party compensation to compensate for lost property; revenues from bad debts that have been processed for write-off; liabilities that do not identify the owner; income from gifts, gifts in money, in kind ...

16 Revenue deductions

Revenue from construction activities is adjusted downward upon receipt of a decision from the Investor and the competent authorities approving the final settlement, which results in a reduction in the completed construction costs.

17 Costs of goods sold

Cost of sales comprises the cost of products, goods, services, and investment properties sold; the production cost of construction contracts completed and sold during the reporting period; and costs directly attributable to investment property operations, together with other related costs.

Damaged or lost value is allowed to record to cost of goods sold after deduction of compensation (if any).

Direct material costs consumed in excess of normal levels, and fixed production overheads that are not allocated to the cost of products received into inventory are recognized in cost of sales, after deducting any compensation received (if any), even when the products or goods have not yet been determined to have been sold.

18 Financial expenses

Finance costs comprise expenses incurred in financial activities, including costs and losses arising from financial investments; borrowing costs; costs relating to investments in joint ventures and associates; losses on the disposal of securities; allowances for diminution in the value of trading securities; allowances for impairment of investments in other entities; losses arising from the sale of foreign currencies; foreign exchange losses; and other finance-related expenses.

19 Selling and general administration expenses

Selling expense is recorded in the period of selling finished goods, trade goods and providing service.

Administrative expense reflects the general expense of the company, including: labour cost; social and health insurance, unemployment fund, union cost of management employee; office material expense, tools, depreciation of assets using for management; land rental, business licence tax; bad debt provision; outsourcing expense and other cash expenses...

Selling expenses and general and administrative expenses are allocated to the Company's business segments based on revenue or profit.

20 Principles and methods for recognition of current and referred Corporate Income Tax expense

Current corporate income tax expense represents the amount of corporate income tax payable for the year, determined on the basis of taxable income and the prevailing corporate income tax rate.

Deferred corporate income tax expense represents the amount of corporate income tax expected to be payable in future periods arising from:

- The recognition of deferred tax liabilities during the year;
- The reversal of deferred tax assets recognised in prior years.

21 Segment information

The division by business sector is a separately identifiable part involved in the production or delivery of products and services and has different risks and economic benefits than other business divisions.

A geographical division is a separately identifiable part that is involved in the production or delivery of products and services within a particular economic environment and has different economic risks and benefits than business divisions in other economic environments.

Segment Reporting by Geographical Areas

As at 30 June 2026, the Company operated solely from its head office located in Ho Chi Minh City. Accordingly, no geographical segment information has been presented.
